CY18 Annual Report – Key Takeaways

Mahindra CIE (MHCIE) has released its CY2018 Annual report. During CY18, MHCIE has displayed strong operating performance and further strengthened its consolidated balance sheet. During CY18 its 1) PAT grew by 46.9% 2) Net debt declined by 23.3% 3) Net Debt to Equity declined from 0.25 to 0.15. However, MHCIE carries ~Rs29bn of Goodwill on its balance which forms ~68% of its net worth and 51% of its balance sheet size. We believe the presence of such high goodwill constraints meaningful expansion in its return ratios.

Following are the key takeaways from the Annual Report:

Management Commentary:

Hemant Luthra (Chairman): As per the Chairman, MHCIE Management team, during the year has built systemic capability to generate better Returns on both Equity and Capital Employed going forward.

Ander Arenaza Alvarez (CEO): As per the CEO, MHCIE continues to invest in incremental capacity and debottlenecking which includes building two brown field projects. We believe this in sync with requirement as the Company is currently operating at 85%+ utilization. Based on current business outlook and the MHCIE's expansion plans, we expect MHCIE to report 7.5 % sales CAGR and 12.6% earning CAGR over CY18-20.

Indian Operations Performance: In Indian operations MHCIE has been implementing operating strategy of focusing on increasing plant efficiencies to improve its operating margins. It has received reasonable traction in adding new customers during CY18. Operations at Bill Forge plant at Mexico is ramping up however, there are some operational problems which are being addressed through rationalizations and consolidation of its operations.

European Operations Performance: Although its German operations are stable, the Company is focusing more on improving its profit margins. MHCIE has decided to close down its UK operations within the next two years and planning to shift machinery and business orders to its other locations. The Company has already provided for the impairment of all the investments in the subsidiary.

No dividend Policy: In the Director's report, the Company has highlighted that MHCIE needs significant funds for its organic and inorganic growth. However, the present Indian FDI regulations do not permit MHCIE (Indian Company owned by foreign majority) to acquire Indian companies through domestic borrowing. Hence MHCIE has not paid dividend to shareholders during CY18.

Growth Opportunities: Parent of MHCIE, CIE automotive is focusing on growth in emerging markets like India, Mexico and Asean region. As per CIE plan, MHCIE is likely to lead these growth initiatives in South East Asia. MHCIE is also likely to benefit from CIE's expertise in working with OEM in their electric vehicle program.

- The Company continues to maintain negative working capital cycle during the year (-5% of sales) largely driven by its European operations.
- The overall Gross block of the company expanded by 13.6% in CY18 (Indian operations – up by 6.2%, Europe Operations – decline of 16.6%).
- Consolidated Net Debt to Equity has declined from 0.25 to 0.15 during CY2018.
- The Company carries ~Rs29bn of goodwill on its balance sheet arising out of merger and acquisitions. This forms ~68% of its net worth and 51% of its balance sheet size. The presence of such high goodwill constraints meaningful expansion in its return ratios (ROE and RONW).

View and Valuations: (BUY with 40% Upside)

MHCIE is one of the largest diversified auto ancillary MNC in India. Post its alliance with CIE, the Company has consolidated its Indian and European business by improving its plant operations and strengthening its balance sheet. We believe, the Company has completed its consolidation phase and likely to enter into high growth phase with through organic and inorganic route. Based on current business outlook and the Company's expansion plans we expect MHCIE to report 7.5% sales CAGR and 12.6% earning CAGR over CY18-20. The stock is attractively priced at PE of 13.7xCY19E and 12.1xCY20 earnings.
